

Mary E. Larson-Marlowe, MBA Consultant – Program Manager

Summary. Results-oriented leader with over 20 years of successful program, operations and strategic management experience. Proven leadership in development of products from preclinical to Phase IV, addressing therapeutic areas including neurological and genetic disorders, cardiology, endocrinology and hematology/ oncology with small molecules, cellular and protein therapies. Reputation for exceptional communication, social intelligence, and critical thinking.

- Drug and Biologics Program Management
- Regulatory Submissions
- Product Portfolio Planning and Analysis
- Financial Management – Capacity planning, budgeting, revenue modeling
- Vendor Management
- Strategic Planning
- Cross-functional Team Leadership

Professional Experience

---

BioPharm Project Solutions, LLC
Principal: 2013-Present

FerruMax Pharmaceuticals, Inc.
Vice President- Product Development: 2010-2013

Aptuit Consulting
Principal Consultant: 2008-2010

Alkermes, Inc.
Director, Project Management: 2007-2008

ViaCell, Inc.
Vice President, Therapeutic Development Operations: 2000-2007

Genzyme Corporation
Therapeutics Program Management and Product Management: 1991-2000

Education/Certification

---

1990; BS, University of Wisconsin-Madison, Molecular Biology

1996; MBA, Boston University Graduate School of Business, high honors

Drug Development and Regulatory Experience

---

- Manage multiple regulatory submissions to U.S. FDA and international authorities.
- Extensive experience working with joint venture partners, contract research organizations and other vendors, academic collaborators and clients in the U.S., Europe and Asia.